Pope Benedict XVI – Sept 2, 2012

It is an essential element of the Jewish and Christian religions, that the complete fulfilment of the law is love. God's Law is his word which guides men and women on the journey through life, brings them out of the slavery of selfishness and leads them into the "land" of true freedom and life. This is why the Law is not perceived as a burden or an oppressive restriction in the Bible.

After the long journey in the wilderness, on the threshold of the promised land, Moses proclaims: "Now, O Israel, give heed to the statutes and the ordinances which I teach you, and do them; that you may live, and go in and take possession of the land which the Lord, the God of your fathers, gives you". And this is the problem: when the People put down roots in the land and are the depository of the Law, they are tempted to place their security and joy in something that is no longer the Word of God: in possessions, in power, in other 'gods' that in reality are useless, they are idols. Of course, the Law of God remains but it is no longer the most important thing, the rule of life; rather, it becomes a camouflage, a cover-up, while life follows other paths, other rules, interests that are often forms of egoism, both individual and collective. The Apostle James alerts us in his Letter to the danger of false piety. "Be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves".

May the Virgin Mary help us to listen with an open and sincere heart to the word of God so that every day it may guide our thoughts, our decisions and our actions.
