GOSPEL REFLECTION FOR 33RD SUNDAY

The Gospel towards the end of the liturgical year highlights the end of things. Whether or not the world will end in our lifetime, we need to be ready to meet our judge. The Mass helps us to develop this sense of urgency. After we have prayed for the coming of God's Kingdom in the Our Father, the priest continues with this prayer: Deliver us, Lord, from every evil, and grant us peace in our day. In your mercy keep us free from sin and protect us from all anxiety as we wait in joyful hope for the coming of our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Almost without our noticing, at every Mass this prayer signifies our recognition of the battle against evil that we have to wage, supported by Saint Michael and his angels. It asks that we be kept free from sin, presupposing that we are in a state of grace. It asks God to protect us from unnecessary anxiety for the future, encouraging dependence and trust in Him. And the phrase "as we wait in joyful hope" sets out the ideal Catholic attitude to our own death, or to the end of the world if that should come first!

How are these attitudes and this state of grace to be achieved? How are we to maintain our readiness in practical terms? By Confession, by attendance at Holy Mass, by prayer, by reading Scripture, by asking the prayers of Our Lady, Saint Michael and all the saints, by works of charity.

May all these traditional, and very necessary, Catholic activities find a renewed and invigorated place in our lives, as we wait in joyful hope for the coming of our Saviour, Jesus Christ.

~Fr. Paul Dobson
